Summary

- Principal Alyssa Roye from Robert H. Jamison Leadership Academy gave the School Spotlight presentation outlining academic progress, student activities, and extracurricular programs at the school.
- April 8 will be a calamity day for the Cleveland Metropolitan School District (CMSD), meaning schools will be closed. The district plans to provide solar eclipse glasses to students.
- Resolutions were presented for discussion regarding Finance, Information Technology, Operations, and Equity and Culture.

Follow-Up Questions

- How will a landscape architect be selected for the stormwater management portion of the new John F. Kennedy High School stadium? And what is the additional cost?
- How frequently does CSMD utilize teacher “looping” to benefit student learning? Will it be increased?
- Why is there such a myriad of transportation services offered to CSMD students, and how are they vetted? [Editor’s note: Most CMSD students attend a school outside of their ZIP code. Hear from CMSD families about transportation barriers in a Cleveland Documenters and Signal Cleveland podcast.]

The board approved minutes from the Feb. 27 meeting.

CEO report was given by Morgan.

School spotlight
Presentation by Principal Roye from Robert H. Jamison Leadership Academy

Key points:
- 367 students enrolled.
- 62.5% of teachers have at least a Master’s degree.
- Jamison is a Leader in Me School.
- Roye gave an example of a monthly student roundtable series where students discussed why some felt unsafe in school. She emphasized the importance of asking questions of the students, not only about the problems they see but also about how they think those problems should be resolved.

Some bright spots:
- No longer a CSI school (comprehensive support and improvement).
- Pre-K Step Up to Quality 5-star rating.
- Full-time music teacher and band program.
- 21-member Student Lighthouse Team (lead initiatives and propose school events).
- 5 CMSD “Granny” volunteers supporting K-2 classrooms.
- Monthly student roundtables.
- Winter and spring athletics.

Link: Asked about the teacher “looping” from third grade to fourth grade. Is that a model for the school?

Roye: Would love for it to be a model but would need teacher support. (She said earlier in the meeting that the fourth grade class with the looped teacher did very well.)

Morgan: Congratulated Roye on not being a CSI school anymore and slide seven specifically (related to proficiency levels in English language arts and math; link to presentation below). What are the largest gaps students are facing that make it a struggle to move them to the next level? And are there any early predictions on where they will be this year?

Roye: Plan to continue small group instruction to help students in need, but there are so many students in need (limited proficiency). The struggle is focusing on both literacy and math, as literacy has been the focus.

After the presentation, Morgan said people have been asking about April 8 - what is the district going to do? Last week officials decided that it will be a calamity day. The district plans to hand out solar eclipse glasses to students, he said, but they will not be in school that day.

Resolutions for discussion
Elaqad: Forty-one resolutions will be presented for discussion only. Find the agenda here.

32 resolutions authorizing complaints about the valuation of commercial property parcels located in the school district.

Morgan said CMSD occasionally wishes to file complaints with Cuyahoga County with the aim of increasing the value of a property so as to increase property tax revenue for the district. He referred to spring of 2022, when the Ohio Legislature passed and Gov. Mike DeWine signed the amended House Bill 126. It required school boards to first authorize such complaints.

Finance

Lucarelli, The Cleveland Foundation, Cuyahoga County, Ohio, And Martha Holden Jennings Foundation, And Authorizing The Chief Executive Officer To Spend The Funds In Accordance With The Terms And Conditions Of The Gifts And Grants

Morgan:

- It is an annual E-Rate program (a federal program)
- Discount up to 90% for some internet services depending on the level of poverty in the community
- CMSD has historically received 90% for category one services and 85% for category two services.
- CMSD has been awarded $9.5 million in the past five years.
- School bus wifi is eligible for the E-Rate program.

Link thanked Morgan and CMSD Chief Information Officer Curtis Timmons for their hard work.

Stadium At The New John F. Kennedy High School And Authorizing Contracts For The Design And Construction Of An Athletic Stadium In An Amount Not To Exceed $4.1 million

Morgan:

- Includes a plan for required stormwater management of the field. In the past, turf fields were somewhat unregulated regarding stormwater.
- The city has allocated $2.1 million for stadium costs.
- The district would initially commit $2 million.

Amending Resolutions 2023-8703 (B) Which Authorized The Issuance Of Term Agreements And Supplier Contracts For Transportation Services For Students Attending Accel And Breakthrough Schools And Additional Non-Public Schools And 2023-8701 (B) Which Authorized The Issuance Of Term Agreements And Supplier Contracts To Multiple Cab And Van Suppliers To Transport Special Education Students, Foster And McKinney-Vento Students For The 2023-2024 School Year By Authorizing An Additional Amount Not To Exceed $3,504,079

Morgan:

- An additional $1.7 million is needed for Community Bus and Rightway Transportation. The driver shortage caused CMSD to repurpose more than a dozen school routes to Rightway and Community Bus.
- An additional $1.8 million is needed to address the growing need for students to be transported by cabs and vans.
- In total, the CMSD transportation department needs an additional $3.5 million to provide necessary transportation through the current school year.

Elaqad received clarification from CMSD staff that the 39% increase in the average cost for cabs and vans services was due to increases in fuel costs, repair costs and payment to contractor drivers.
